

The Murders

London, 1888.

One by one, women of Whitechapel fell victim to a killer whose cruelty shocked the nation, yet the police were powerless to solve the crime.

Tonight, you are called to pick up the trail. Armed with headlines torn from the press, whispered rumors, and scattered clues, you and your fellow guests must untangle the mystery that baffled Victorian London...

Who was Jack the Ripper!

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED...
... TO AN EVENING OF MURDER, MYSTERY, AND MAYHEM

Join us for a Jack the Ripper-themed dinner party of suspense and sleuthing!

The Murder Mystery

London, 1888. Gas lamps flicker.
Footsteps echo in narrow alleys.
And somewhere in the shadows,
Jack the Ripper is watching.

Trust no one. Defend your alibi.
Solve the puzzles. By the final candle's burn, one of you will be unmasked as Jack the Ripper.

Dinner, drama, and murder—served Victorian style.

YOUR PROFILE:

Violet Adler

A sharp-tongued journalist who is always chasing a story, Violet Adler knows everyone's secrets before they do.
But in a city full of fog and fear, a reporter who asks too many questions might just be part of the story... or part of the problem.

Costume: A tailored Victorian jacket and skirt, spectacles perched on her nose, a notebook and pencil always at the ready, with a mischievous glint that suggests she knows more than she should.

Who committed the murders?

- Sherlock Holmes ☐
- Molly Malone ☐
- Dr. Francis Tumblety .. ☐
- Mrs. Agatha Pottle ☐
- Aaron Kosminski..... ☐
- Matilda Graves ☐
- Charles Lechmere ☐
- Violet Adler ☐

